

UT-LSE Conference on Economic History

Meeting Room on the 6th floor of Econ. Building, University of Tokyo

December 18th, 2006

10:45-10:55

Registration

10:55-11:00

Welcome speech

11:00-12:00

Tateshi Mori (University of Tokyo) "Was Skill So Important in Labour Management ?:

A Case of Yawata Steel Works in the 1950s"

Discussant: Janet Hunter (London School of Economics)

Chair: Kazuo Wada (University of Tokyo)

12:00-13:15

Lunch

13:15-14:15

Patrick Wallis (London School of Economics) "Apprenticeship, Training and Guilds in Premodern England"

Discussant: Tomoji Onozuka (University of Tokyo)

Chair: Tateshi Mori (University of Tokyo)

14:15-15:15

Naofumi Nakamura (University of Tokyo) "Personnel Management and the Formation of Modern Business Organization: The Railway Industry in Japan
Before the First World War"

Discussant: Leslie Hannah (University of Tokyo)

Chair: Janet Hunter (London School of Economics)

15:15-15:30

Coffee break

15:30-16:30

Stephan R. Epstein (London School of Economics) "Replicating Technical Knowledge and Innovating in Europe, c.1200-1800"

Discussant: Tetsuji Okazaki (University of Tokyo)

Chair: Masayuki Tanimoto (University of Tokyo)

17:00-

Reception